

Regulation of broadband service insures the ISPs such as sonic.net will continue to provide DSL service by requiring SBC to make their lines available to the ISPs. While DSL service can be bought directly from SBC, companies such as sonic.net add value in the form of permanent IP numbers, multiple IP numbers, multiple email accounts, and a level of technical support which is unparalleled.